DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 03-MAR-2005 complies with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97, 1.98 and MPEP § 609. Accordingly, it has been placed in the application file and the information referred to therein has been considered as to the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-4 and 6- 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krall et al. (US Pat. 5,976,562) in view of EP 0 695 501 A1 when taken with Smith et al. (US 2005/0130163 A1).

Krall et al. teaches the basic claimed process of forming a antimicrobial plastic body, comprising: molding a least one component of the precursor that has been treated with a metal and contain inorganic particles (2:25-40 and 3:15-35); polyurethane (example); barium sulfate (3:15-35); and molding into a final shape by extruding, injection molding, and hot press molding (4:5-15 and 5:19-27).

Krall et al. does not teach using coating/treated inorganic particles. However, EP 0 695 501 A1 teaches using coating/treated inorganic particles using a metal/silver dispersion/colloid that has been treated with a reducing agent (pg. 3). It is noted that Smith et al. provides evidence that the addition of a reducing agent to stabilize a colloid was known in the art as of 1982 (para. 16). Therefore, it is submitted that the dispersion/colloid of EP 0 695 501 A1 is stabilized. Krall et al. and EP 0 695 501 A1 are combinable because they are concerned with a similar technical difficulty, namely, antimicrobial properties of plastic articles. At the time of invention a person of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to have used coated/treated inorganic particles as well as the particles/material in the primary reference, as taught by EP 0 695 501 A1, in the process of Krall et al., and would have been motivated to do so because EP 0 695 501 A1 suggests that antibacterial properties are attained in a molded product.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 19-SEP-2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments have been substantially responded to in the above rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
